This Weekend's Action

Middle Tennessee (5-2-0) enters this weekend having won four out of their last five contests. Last weekend, the Blue Raiders picked up a pair of victories over Tennessee Tech (3-2) and Belmont (3-0). MT is off to its best start since the 2009 season. A win over Memphis would tie the 2009 campaign for most wins through eight matches.

About the Tigers

Memphis (2-3-0) is coming off an historic 22-1-1 record last season and a Conference USA Championship. The Lady Tigers have lost two-of-three as they enter a six-match homestand this weekend. UM fell 2-1 at LSU, but knocked off Vanderbilt 2-1 in overtime. The Tigers dropped a heartbreaking 3-2 loss to No. 3 Oklahoma State on Sept. 2. Memphis' other victory came from a 4-0 shutout of Arkansas State on Aug. 31. The Tigers are led by freshman Tine Schryvers, who has seven points and three goals in five matches. Christa Strickland (1-1, 1.30 GAA) and Becca Brown (1-2, 2.80 GAA) have split time in the net for Memphis this season. Memphis plays OVC member Southeast Missouri State before facing the Blue Raiders Sunday.

Memphis Series

Memphis and Middle Tennessee are meeting for the fourth occasion on Sunday and the first time since 2005. The Lady Tigers have a 2-1 edge in the series, including a 5-1 victory in Murfreesboro on Sept. 18, 2005. Middle Tennessee's lone victory came on Sept. 5, 2004 when MT defeated UM, 2-1.

Up Next

Middle Tennessee opens Sun Belt Conference action next weekend at Dean A. Hayes Track and Soccer Stadium. The Blue Raiders host UALR on Friday in a 6pm showdown before facing Arkansas State in a Sunday matinee at 1pm.

Offense Ranks No. 2 Nationally

The potent offensive attack of Middle Tennessee has been lethal for opponents this season. With the first release of the NCAA rankings, the Blue Raiders sit second nationally in scoring offense. MT has averaged 3.71 goals per contest, and has scored three or more goals in four contests this season. The Blue Raiders' Paige Goglein and Whitney Jorgenson are tied for 50th in the NCAA with 1.71 points per match. Goeglein is 37th nationally with 5 goals through seven matches this season.

Start to the Season

A win over Memphis would give Middle Tennessee soccer its best start since the 2009 campaign. The Blue Raiders started that season with a 6-1-1 record. The Blue Raiders secured wins over Tennessee Tech, Alabama A&M, Wright State, Belmont, Evansville and Austin Peay during that stretch.

Jorgenson Inking Her Name in the Record Books

Senior Whitney Jorgenson is continuing to ink her name in the Middle Tennessee record books. The Olathe, Kan., product ranks sixth in assists (17) and shot percentage (.150). She is eighth with six game-winning goals, 10th in minutes played (4,963) and 10th with 53 career points.

Ranking Among the Best

Through four weeks of action, Middle Tennessee leads the Sun Belt in five catego ries. The Blue Raiders have amassed a league-best 70 points, 26 goals, and 18 assists. MT also leads the league with 3.71 goals per game and 2.57 assists per game.

Keep the Goals Coming

Middle Tennessee has set the pace early, scoring 26 goals in the first seven games. The Blue Raiders knocked in 10 goals in a shutout victory over Alabama A&M on Aug. 24. That high octane explosion resulted in a tie for the second most scored in school history. Three of the highest scoring performances in school history have come against Alabama A&M. On Sept. 2, the Blue Raiders posted the 10th-best scoring performance with seven goals against ETSU.

Thomas Continues Record Pace

Last weekend, senior Regina Thomas entered the top-10 in career goals at MT. The forward netted her 21st and 22nd career goals against Belmont to move into 10th all-time. Thomas is just one goal shy from moving into ninth and four from moving into eighth. The forward ranks third all-time in shot percentage (.180), eighth in career assists (16) and ninth in shots on goal (80).

Leading the League

Seniors Paige Goeglein and Whitney Jorgenson are also among the best in the Sun Belt. Goeglein is tied for first with Jorgenson with 12 points. Goeglein is also tied for the SBC-best five goals with North Texas' Kelsey Hodges. Jorgenson is second with four assists through seven matches.

The First Half Raiders

Scoring in the first half has been the mantra for the Blue Raider program this season. Middle Tennessee has outscored its opponents 16-to-3 in the opening half. Therefore, 16 of MT's 26 goals this season have come from the opening half.

Dynamic Duo

Both goalkeepers for the Blue Raiders have been tremendous minding the net this season. Freshman Kelsey Brouwer holds a 3-1 record, saving 81 percent of her shots this season. The Franklin native holds a 0.97 Goals Against Average in four matches this season. Jessica Gilchrist has posted a 2-1 record in three contests. Gilchrist has deflected four balls from the net, while posting a 1.39 GAA.

Goeglein and Hartshorn Sweep Weekly Honors

Paige Goeglein and Emily Hartshorn grabbed weekly offensive and defensive player of the week honors on Sept. 4 by the Sun Belt Conference. Goeglein accumulated four points, including a goal and two assists in MT's 7-1 drubbing of ETSU. Against Vanderbilt, Goeglein fired off three strikes as the Blue Raiders fell 2-0. Hartshorn provided stout defense throughout the weekend as MT gave up just three goals on the weekend. The sophomore midfielder helped limit ETSU to just seven shots as the Blue Raiders cruised to their third victory this season.

Briefly Recalling 2011

Middle Tennessee completed a 10-9-1 record and its eighth 10-win season in the past nine years. The Blue Raiders' season ended with a 1-0 loss to Western Kentucky in the Sun Belt tournament. The Blue Raiders boasted a 7-3-1 record in conference play after battling in a tough non-conference schedule. MT returns its top goal scorer from a year ago in Regina Thomas. The Centennial, Colo., product tallied eight goals for 17 points in 18 games played last season.

Preseason Picks

Middle Tennessee was picked to finish third in the Sun Belt Conference for the 2012 season. The Blue Raiders were slated to finish behind preseason favorite North Texas and second place FIU. Voting resulted in a tie for MT as they were picked third along with archrival Western Kentucky. Three Blue Raiders grabbed preseason All-Conference accolades. Seniors Regina Thomas, Paige Goeglein and Allison Stallard all picked up preseason honors as voted on by the league coaches.

Following the Blue Raiders

Middle Tennessee Soccer fans have several options on following the Blue Raiders this season. Fans can follow live action through the audio and video stream broadcast powered by Stretch Internet. Tony Abati will call the action for the Blue Raiders this season. Fans can purchase an individual game pass or a season pass to view the broadcast. If you are on the road, fans can follow MT_Soccer on Twitter for updates from the game and during the week.

Weelkly Tidbits

- Middle Tennessee has scored seven goals in the first 15 minutes of action this year.
- MT has out tallied their last three opponents, 13-3.
- The Blue Raiders and Memphis' commmon opponent is Vanderbilt. The Tigers knocked off VU, 2-1, in overtime. The Commodores shutout the Blue Raiders, 2-0.
- Coach Aston Rhoden is vastly approaching win 175 with the Blue Raiders. He is just five victories shy of reaching that mark.
