SUN BELT STREAK REACHES 26: Middle Tennessee owns a 26-game winning streak overall against Sun Belt competition heading into Thursday's contest against rival Western Kentucky, including a perfect 18-0 regular season conference record in 2006-07. Middle Tennessee's last SBC loss came February 27, 2006, at Florida International, a 73-57 defeat. The Blue Raiders broke the previous Sun Belt high of 16 league wins set by Louisiana Tech in both 1999-00 and 2000-01. Middle Tennessee ended the 2006-07 season 21-0 against Sun Belt opponents after winning its fourth consecutive SBC Tournament. Only three other schools in the 31-year history of the Sun Belt finished undefeated in conference play (Old Dominion, 6-0 in 1984-85, 1987-88; UAB, 6-0 in 1990-91; Louisiana Tech, 14-0 in 1993-94, 1995-96, 12-0 in 1998-99, 16-0 in 1999-00, 2000-01).

BROWN OUT WITH BROKEN HAND: Middle Tennessee sophomore forward Brandi Brown will miss 3-4 weeks after breaking her hand in practice on December 31. Brown broke the fourth metacarpal of her left (non-shooting) hand during practice and underwent surgery two days later. The Jamestown, Tenn., native is averaging 8.3 points and 3.2 rebounds per game this season, the second leading scorer for the Blue Raiders. She is also averaging 2.1 assists per contest and shooting 37 percent (25-for-67) from 3-point range. Brown will miss at least six games in the best case scenario with the injury.

HOLT NEEDS HELP IN SCORING COLUMN: Middle Tennessee's Amber Holt is posting All-American numbers, averaging 25.5 points and 8.5 rebounds per game for the Blue Raiders, but her teammates must begin to knock down shots if the Blue Raiders are to claim another Sun Belt championship. In the last two games Holt has scored 41 points against LSU and 32 points at Louisville, hitting 27-of-50 field goals, while the rest of the squad has made only 18-for-69 (.261) in the two contests, including just 5-of-19 (.263) from 3-point range. No other player has scored in double figures in the two games. Add to that the loss of sophomore Brandi Brown, the only other player to start every game and the team's second leading scorer, who broke her hand in practice on December 31, and Middle Tennessee really has its work cut out heading into Thursday's contest against rival Western Kentucky.

RAIDERS FIND SUCCESS ON THE ROAD:

Middle Tennessee has played nine of its 13 contests in 2007-08 on the road, posting a 4-5 mark, including victories at Houston and Arizona and suffering four defeats by a combined 28 points. Couple that with a loss at No. 1 Tennessee, a game in which the Blue Raiders trailed by just six points with six minutes to play, and the young squad has performed very well away from Murphy Center. The season-opening loss at Old Dominion ended a 13-game road winning streak for Middle Tennessee dating to last season, and the team has won 17 of its last 22 contests on opponents' home floors, with all five losses this season – versus ODU, Chattanooga, Maryland, Tennessee and Louisville. Middle Tennessee has a 10-game Sun Belt road winning streak heading into Thursday's contest against rival Western Kentucky. Of the team's 29 regular season games in 2007-08, 17 will be played on the road.

QUEEN KEEPS HITTING THE BOARDS:

Freshman Emily Queen has slowly learned her role and played her best game of the year against No. 8/8 LSU on December 28, grabbing a career-high 12 rebounds, including nine in the first half. Queen moved into the starting lineup six games ago and has averaged 6.0 rebounds per game in the six contests, including six at Austin Peay and seven at both South Alabama and Louisville. In the last three games, the Ashland, Ky., native has grabbed 8.7 boards per outing. The Blue Raiders are 4-2 since Queen moved into the starting lineup December 13 at No. 1/1 Tennessee. She was inserted into the lineup to add more size and a more physical presence in the low post. The Rose Hill Christian School product had a big game at Austin Peay on December 15 in her second start, scoring a career-high 14 points on 5-of-7 shooting along with six rebounds. Queen is second on the club with 4.3 rebounds per game and averages just 16.6 minutes per game.

HOLT NETS 41 IN UPSET OF LSU: Amber Holt's senior season has been spectacular to say the least, with the Duluth, Ga., native leading the Blue Raiders and ranking second nationally in scoring. Holt put on a show in the 67-56 victory over eighth-ranked LSU on December 28, scoring a career-high 41 points, just one shy of the school record held by Kim Webb. She hit 15-of-26 shots from the floor and 11-for-12 at the foul line, scoring 19 in the first half and 22 after the break. The 41 points tied Tawanya Mucker for the second most in school history. Holt set career-highs for field goals made (15) and free throws made (11) and tied her career-high for free throw attempts (12). The 15 field goals tied for seventh most in a single game in school history. Holt became the first player to score 40 for Middle Tennessee since Mucker's 41 against Mississippi College on December 2, 1988.

UPSET RANKS AMONG BEST IN SCHOOL HISTORY: Middle Tennessee's victory over eighth-ranked LSU ranks among the best in school history. The win for Middle Tennessee marks the second year in a row the Blue Raiders have knocked off a team ranked in the Top 10 after beating eighth-ranked Georgia last season in Athens. It is also just the second victory over a Top 10-ranked program at home in school history and only the third win over a Top 10 program ever for Middle Tennessee.

HOLT LEADS BLUE RAIDERS ACROSS THE BOARD: Middle Tennessee senior Amber Holt leads the Blue Raiders in scoring, rebounding, assists and steals heading into Thursday's contest at Western Kentucky. Holt is averaging 25.5 points, 8.5 rebounds, 3.69 assists and 2.38 steals per game for Middle Tennessee. In the last NCAA statistics for games through December 16, the Duluth, Ga., native ranked second nationally in scoring, 23rd in assist-to-turnover ratio (2.00) and 64th in FG percentage. Holt has done much more than score for the Blue Raiders this season, as evidenced by her stats. She has four double-doubles in 13 games and nine contests with at least eight boards despite playing against much-taller opponents in almost every outing. She also has eight contests with at least four assists, including six at Old Dominion, seven at Maryland and five at Tennessee. Holt has scored at least 27 points in eight contests this season as well, including a career-high 41 against No. 8 LSU on December 28.

SQUAD STRUGGLING FROM BEHIND THE ARC: One of Middle Tennessee's trademarks under Rick Insell has been making a high percentage of 3-pointers. The Blue Raiders made 37 percent from behind the arc in 2005-06 and 35 percent last season and started this year very hot, making 31-of-77 (.403) in the first three games of the year. The squad struggled over the next three contests, making just 15-for-73 (.205), including a 2-for-18 effort against Western Carolina on December 2. The club found the touch again from 3-point range over the next five outings, making 52-for-143 (.364), including 12 trifectas at No. 3/6 Maryland and versus Florida International and 11 more at No. 1/1 Tennessee. Five times this season the Blue Raiders have hit double-digit 3-pointers in a game, including 11 at Old Dominion and 12 versus Tennessee Tech earlier this season. But the squad hit another cold streak in the last two outings, hitting just 3-of-16 against No. 8/8 LSU on December 28 and 8-for-31 at Louisville on December 30. For the year Middle Tennessee is shooting 32 percent (109-of-340) from 3-point range.

RAIDERS KEEPING TURNOVERS DOWN: One of head coach Rick Insell's stressing points to his team this season is valuing possessions and limiting turnovers. In 2006-07 the Blue Raiders turned the ball over just 14.6 times per game, ranking 26th nationally among 323 teams. Through this season's first three games, Middle Tennessee was committing 19.7 turnovers per game, but the Blue Raiders have improved on that number drastically over the last nine contests, committing just 13.2 turnovers during that stretch, including a season-low eight miscues against Florida International on December 19. Middle Tennessee had only 14 turnovers at Arizona, 10 miscues at Chattanooga, 11 turnovers versus Western Carolina and 13 miscues at Maryland. The Blue Raiders have also turned up their defense as the season has progressed, with opponents averaging 22.8 turnovers per game in 2007-08. Middle Tennessee forced a season-high 39 turnovers on December 15 against Austin Peay, turning those mistakes into 43 points. The Blue Raiders are averaging 24.2 points per game this year off opponent turnovers, scoring 315 total points in 13 games.

RAIDERS LEADERS ARE TRIPLE THREATS: Amber Holt not only leads Middle Tennessee with 25.5 points per game, but the senior also ranks first on the club with 8.5 rebounds and 3.7 assists per game, continuing an eight-year trend where the club's leading scorer also ranks near the top in both rebounds and assists. Chrissy Givens led the Blue Raiders in scoring and assists the last two seasons and also ranked first in rebounds in 2005-06 before tying for second in boards last year. Patrice Holmes was first in scoring and assists her final three years as a Blue Raider and ranked first in rebounding twice and fourth once. Jamie Thomatis was also first in scoring and rebounding as a junior and senior and ranked second and third in assists during those seasons as well.

DOUBLE-DOUBLE BECOMING HABIT FOR HOLT: Senior Amber Holt has been on quite a roll during the month of December, posting three double-doubles in eight games this month after posting 18 points and 11 rebounds against Florida International on Dec. 19. She added five assists and five steals versus the Golden Panthers as well, the seventh double-double of her career and fourth in 2007-08. The Duluth, Ga., native also had a double-double at Austin Peay on December 15, registering a then career-high 33 points along with 14 rebounds. Holt had one of her best all-around games of her career at Maryland on December 5, scoring 16 points with 10 rebounds and a career-high seven assists in 39 minutes of action. The Meadowcreek

HS product posted a double-double November 19 at Houston when she had then career-highs of 30 points and 15 rebounds. Holt has just missed a double-double on three other occasions in 2007-08, grabbing nine rebounds at Arizona, versus No. 8/8 LSU and at Louisville.

SERIES WITH WESTERN KENTUCKY: Middle Tennessee and Western Kentucky is without a doubt the most heated rivalry on the Blue Raiders schedule each season. The two teams have met 18 times since Middle Tennessee joined the Sun Belt before the 2000-01 season, with the Blue Raiders owning a 10-8 mark against the Lady 'Toppers, including three straight victories and wins in six of the last seven meetings. In the 18 meetings the average score has been Middle Tennessee 73.1 (1,316 pts) and Western Kentucky 69.2 (1,246 pts). The Blue Raiders are just 3-6 at Diddle Arena since joining the league, including last season's 78-63 triumph in February. A complete listing of the series history may be found on page 143 of the media guide.

HOLT MORE EXPLOSIVE AFTER HALFTIME: Amber Holt averages 25.5 points per game this season, but the senior has been much more productive after halftime, scoring in double figures in the second half in all 13 games in 2007-08 and scoring more points in the second half than in the first in every contest. The Duluth, Ga., native has netted 200 of her 332 points (15.4 per game) this season after intermission. Holt scored 20 of her team-high 28 at No. 1 Tennessee after the break and posted 22 of her career-high 41 after intermission versus No. 8 LSU. She added 18 of her then career-high 33 at Austin Peay in the second half as well. Holt had 14 points en route to a game-high 27 in the second half against Western Carolina on December 2 and 19 of her game-high 27 points after intermission at Arizona on November 25, including the first six points of the second half and seven of the team's final 11 points of the contest. The chart below breaks down Holt's field goals in the first and second halves, points in the second half and total points in the game.

LANNING JUST GETS IT DONE: Freshman Anne Marie Lanning was a much-heralded high school player at Riverdale HS in Murfreesboro before becoming a Blue Raider this season. The 5-foot-11 guard has suffered through some growing pains while adjusting to the college game, but she continues to be effective in the scoring column for Middle Tennessee. Lanning netted a career-high 15 points on 5-of-7 shooting, including three 3-pointers, on December 22 at South Alabama in just 11 minutes of action. It was her fifth double-digit scoring effort of the season and her second in three games after posting 11 points at Austin Peay on Dec. 15. Lanning is the team's third leading scorer at 7.2 points per game and also averages 2.8 rebounds, 1.5 assists and 1.2 steals per outing despite playing only 19.4 minutes per contest.

ABNEY KEEPS TURNOVERS DOWN BUT MISSING ON 3-POINTERS: Johnna Abney has been a three-year starter at point guard for the Blue Raiders because of her steady play and ability to knock down 3-pointers. The junior was a little up-and-down at the beginning of the year, as the Mt. Vernon, Ky., native had just one double-figure scoring game but more importantly averaged 3.0 turnovers per outing in the first five contests of the season. Since coming off the bench against Western Carolina on December 2, Abney has distributed the ball much better, committing only 15 turnovers in the last eight outings and handing out 16 assists. The Rockcastle HS product found the range from behind the arc in early December, knocking down a pair of 3-pointers at Maryland and hitting three more trifectas and 11 total points at Tennessee. But she has hit 1-for-10 from 3-point range over the last five contests, scoring just 14 total points during the stretch. Abney is shooting 33 percent (13-for-40) from behind the arc for the season.

LYMON'S SEASON UP-AND-DOWN: Sophomore point guard Chelsia Lymon has seen several highs and lows in the team's 13 games in 2007-08, but her return to the court just nine months after a major knee injury has also been a big help for the Blue Raiders. Lymon scored a career-high 15 points on November 14 against Tennessee Tech, added eight points on November 19 at Houston and netted 14, including a pair of 3-pointers, at No. 3/6 Maryland on December 5. But she played one of the worst games of her career on December 13 at Tennessee, committing five of the team's 17 turnovers in the game.

She also did not score against the Lady Vols. One of Lymon's greatest traits is her resiliency, and the Georgetown, Ky., native came back with 14 points and three assists as well as just one turnover at Austin Peay on December 15. For the season Lymon is averaging 5.8 points and 1.6 assists per game while playing 18.5 minutes per contest.

RAIDERS IN THE GIVING MOOD: Middle Tennessee has averaged almost 15 assists per game this season, but the Blue Raiders were in the giving mood just before Christmas, handing out 27 assists on December 22 at South Alabama. The 27 helpers were a team season-high and the most by the Blue Raiders in at least eight seasons. No team from 2000-01 to the present has ever had more than 26 assists in a game. The school record for assists in a game is 39 against Kentucky on November 17, 1978. Johnna Abney and Brandi Brown both set career-highs for assists with seven and six, respectively. Abney's previous high was four on five different occasions, the last coming versus Western Kentucky in December of 2006. Brown eclipsed her previous high of four against Houston on November 19 of this year. Latoya Barclay also tied her career-high with five assists against the Lady Jaguars. Barclay also had five assists at New Orleans on January 28, 2006.

HOME SWEET HOME: Middle Tennessee has played just four times at Murphy Center this season in 13 games after the December 28 upset against No. 8 LSU. Historically the Blue Raiders have played excellent within the confines of the Glass House, owning a 318-90 all-time record at Murphy Center, a winning percentage of .779. Middle Tennessee ended the 2005-06 season 15-1 at home in head coach Rick Insell's first season, with the lone loss to then 17th-ranked Georgia on November 30, 2005. The Blue Raiders had their 12-game home winning streak snapped in last year's season-opener against top-ranked Maryland, losing 80-76, and then dropped a 72-61 decision three nights later to South Dakota State. But the squad rebounded, posting 13 straight victories at home and ending the year 13-2 at Murphy Center. Middle Tennessee defeated Tennessee Tech, 89-62, in the home opener this season but dropped a 77-71 decision to Western Carolina on December 2 at the Glass House, ending a 14-game winning streak. The Blue Raiders rebounded with a 77-64 triumph over Florida International at home on December 19 and stands 3-1 this season at Murphy Center after the victory over LSU. Third-year head coach Rick Insell's mark on the home floor is 31-4 overall.

HOLT GARNERS SECOND SBC PLAYER OF THE WEEK HONOR: Middle Tennessee senior Amber Holt was voted the Sun Belt Player of the Week on December 18 after averaging 30.5 points and 9.0 rebounds in contests against top-ranked Tennessee and at Austin Peay. Holt also posted 5.0 assists and 2.5 steals in the two contests, hitting 20-of-32 field goals, 5-for-10 3-pointers and 18-of-22 free throws. Against the top-ranked Lady Vols, Holt netted 28 points, hitting 8-of-16 from the floor and 10-of-11 at the foul line. She added five assists in playing all 40 minutes, as the Blue Raiders trailed by just six points with six minutes to play. She scored 20 of her 28 points in the second half as well. Against Austin Peay, the senior scored a career-high 33 points, making 12-of-16 shots and 8-of-11 free throws. She grabbed 14 rebounds with five assists and three steals. It was her third double-double this season and the sixth of her career. She also has double-doubles this season at Houston and at Maryland. It is Holt's second SBC Player of the Week honor this season and the fourth of her career. She garnered SBC accolades on November 20 after helping the Blue Raiders to victories over Tennessee Tech and at Houston, averaging 24.5 points and 10.0 rebounds per game. Holt is averaging 25.0 points, 8.5 rebounds and 3.9 assists per game this season, all team-highs for Middle Tennessee. She ranks first in the Sun Belt in scoring, third in rebounding and tied for seventh in assists. Her scoring average this week ranks second nationally through games of December 16. She is also 23rd in the nation in assist-to-turnover ratio and 64th in field goal percentage.

FOUR-GAME SKID QUITE A SHOCK: Middle Tennessee's four-game losing streak from November 28-December 13, defeats to Chattanooga, Western Carolina, No. 3/6 Maryland and No. 1/1 Tennessee, was the first four-game skid for the Blue Raider program since December 16, 1998-January 2, 1999, in Stephany Smith's second season as head coach. It ties for the fifth longest losing streak in school history. Middle Tennessee had not lost three straight contests in the same season since January 16-23, 2003, under Smith.

BLUE RAIDERS IN JANUARY: Middle Tennessee stands 202-93 (.685) all-time in the month of January, including 40-20 (.667) in this decade. The Blue Raiders were 6-2 in the month of January in coach Rick Insell's first year at the helm of the program and a perfect 10-0 in January last year. Overall the Blue Raiders have won 14 in a row during the month of January dating to the 2005-06 season, with the last loss at UALR on Jan. 14, 2006.

RAIDERS RANK 27th IN ATTENDANCE: The first unofficial national attendance rankings of the year were released December 3, with Middle Tennessee ranking 23rd despite playing just two home games this season. The Blue Raiders rank 27th this week in the national attendance figures compiled by the University of Wisconsin. Middle Tennessee is averaging 3,210 fans per game after drawing 2,614 for the home opener versus Tennessee Tech and 3,806 against Western Carolina. Middle Tennessee ranked 26th nationally in attendance last season after averaging 4,157 fans per game.

BROWN STEPS UP AT MARYLAND: Sophomore Brandi Brown took advantage of a switch in the lineup at Maryland on December 5. The Blue Raiders started three forwards, allowing Brown to play more on the perimeter and look for her shot, something she has been hesitant to do for much of the season. The Jamestown, Tenn., native responded with a season-high 22 points, including 6-of-12 from 3-point range. It was just the second 20-point effort of her career after the career-high 25 points last season against North Dakota State. The York Institute product tied her season-highs with 22 points, 8-of-15 FG attempts and 6-for-12 3-point FG attempts.

BURTTS HITS THE BOARDS: Redshirt freshman Angelique Burtts played sparingly in the first five games of the season but burst onto the scene against Western Carolina December 2. Burtts entered the game early in the second half because of foul trouble in the Blue Raiders frontcourt and made her 11 minutes of action count. The Conyers, Ga., native scored 12 points on 5-of-5 shooting and grabbed five rebounds, including four on the offensive glass. She had played just 18 minutes in the team's first five games this year and had taken just three shots in her career before the performance against the Lady Catamounts. Her play earned the Rockdale HS product her first career start December 5 at Maryland where she grabbed a pair of rebounds in 14 minutes. Burtts added to her rebounding totals December 13 at No. 1/1 Tennessee, grabbing five more boards in 10 minutes before fouling out.

HOLT VOTED SBC PLAYER OF THE WEEK: Middle Tennessee's Amber Holt was voted the Sun Belt Player of the Week on November 20 after helping the Blue Raiders to a pair of victories. Holt averaged 24.5 points and 10.0 rebounds per game in Middle Tennessee victories over Tennessee Tech and at Houston. The senior set career-highs with 30 points and 15 rebounds in the 69-68 triumph at Houston, including scoring nine straight points in the second half after the Cougars tied the game. She also had career-highs in field goals made (13) and field goal attempts (27) and added four assists and three steals in 37 minutes in the contest. Against Tennessee Tech, Holt scored 19 points with five rebounds, three assists and two steals. It is Holt's third career Player of the Week accolade after garnering the honor twice last season – November 14 and February 5.

SQUAD VERY YOUNG IN 2007-08: Middle Tennessee will play the 2007-08 season with just 11 players available for head coach Rick Insell's relentless style of full court basketball, and only three of those players have played more than one season at Middle Tennessee – seniors Starr Orr and Latoya Barclay and junior Johnna Abney. Senior Amber Holt has been in Murfreesboro one year after transferring from Southeastern Illinois College. The rest of the squad is made up of three sophomores (Jackie Pickel, Chelsia Lymon and Brandi Brown), one redshirt freshman (Angelique Burtts) and three true freshmen (Emily Queen, Morgan Boyd and Anne Marie Lanning). A good example of the program's youth came November 25 at Arizona. The Blue Raiders played at the McKale Center against Utah in the first round of the NCAA Tournament in 2005-06, but only three players remain on the squad who played in that contest – Orr, Barclay and Abney.

Preseason Notes

HOLT VOTED FIRST TEAM, BLUE RAIDERS PICKED SECOND IN SBC: Middle Tennessee senior Amber Holt was voted First Team All-Sun Belt and the Blue Raiders were picked second in the East in a poll of league coaches released during the Sun Belt Media Days in Mobile, Ala. Holt was a First Team All-SBC selection last season after averaging 16.7 points, 6.3 rebounds and 2.7 steals per contest. She is one of three starters returning for the Blue Raiders from last year's record-setting 30-4 club.

She had her best games in 2006-07 against some of the nation's top teams, including 28 points and eight rebounds against top-ranked Maryland, 26 points and 10 boards versus Chattanooga and 21 points, including 15 in the second half, in Middle Tennessee's victory at eighth-ranked Georgia. Holt also scored 27 points against Old Dominion, tallied 15 points and 11 rebounds in the semifinals of the Sun Belt Championships versus Denver and posted 23 points against Gonzaga in the first round of

LAST TIME OUT FOR MIDDLE TENNESSEE

Slow start proves costly for MTSU

Lady Raiders can't sustain rally in loss at Louisville

By DAVID BOCLAIR

boclair@dnj.com

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Two days after one of the more significant victories in program history, the MTSU women's basketball team was forced to play from behind — almost exclusively.

With the exception of the first 17 seconds, when the game was scoreless, and 15 seconds when it was 2-2, the Lady Raiders played catch-up with the University of Louisville before an enthusiastic crowd of 5,243 at Freedom Hall.

Try as they might — and they tried several different things — they never pulled even, let alone took the lead, and eventually fell 76-64 in their final non-conference game of the season.

"We came out not ready to play," Amber Holt said. "If we came out ready to play like we did (Friday) against LSU, we probably would have won this game. ... It seemed like we came out tentative."

They fell behind 10-2 in the first four minutes and trailed by 13 (33-20) with 4:07 to play in the first half. From there, they actually outscored the Lady Cardinals but never got even on the scoreboard, as the teams tested one another with similar philosophies and star power in a contest that featured the country's top two scorers — Holt and Louisville's Angel McCoughtry.

"They were switching defenses constantly," MTSU coach Rick Insell said. "And they were taking time off the clock with their contain press. They do some of the same stuff we do — or maybe we do some of the same stuff they do. ... They did a great job.

"McCoughtry's a great player, just like I've got a great player (Holt)."

First, MTSU (7-6) turned to Holt to try and get back in the game. The senior forward scored four straight points and 12 of MTSU's next 22 over a 12-minute stretch (she also had two steals during that time) capped by a pair of baskets 24 seconds apart, which got the Lady Raiders within six, 50-44, with 12:24 to play.

From there, the Lady Raiders attempted to shoot their way to the finish, which proved fruitless. Chelsia Lymon's 3-pointer with 11:03 to play made it 50-47, which was as close as they got in the second half, but MTSU then missed six straight 3-pointers (by six different players) over the next three-and-a-half minutes.

For the game, the Lady Raiders made just 8-of-31 (25.8 percent) 3-point attempts.

"We usually knock those things down," Insell said. "We didn't knock them down (Sunday). ... We also had some 3s that we passed up that I felt like we should take. ... You have to give them credit, they were running at us, they were very athletic and getting a hand up on the (shot). That's what you're supposed to do."

Ultimately, Holt, the nation's leading scorer, finished with 32 points — half of MTSU's total.

Louisville (11-2), however, got 32 of its own from McCoughtry, but her total included two well-timed 3-pointers that turned back a pair of MTSU runs.

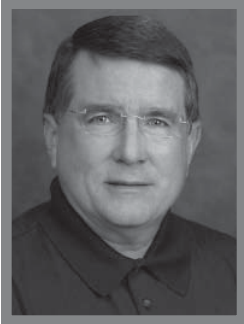

McCoughtry made just three 3-point baskets in the game, one with 18:17 left after the Lady Raiders had pulled within four, 37-33, and the last 24 seconds after Lymon's had made it a three-point game.

"You aren't going to see two better players on the floor for two teams than you did (Sunday)," Louisville coach Jeff Walz said. "Amber Holt is a kid who is an unbelievable basketball player. ... Then Angel, ... she had to step up and make some big shots — and she did."

In so doing, she saw to it that MTSU never caught up completely.

Head Coach Rick Insell

Rick Insell begins his third season as head coach at Middle Tennessee amid great expectations after a record-breaking season in 2006-07 that included a school-record 30 victories, a fourth straight trip to the NCAA Tournament and a No. 16 national ranking by the Associated Press and the ESPN/USA Today Coaches poll.

Insell has helped elevate the program into the national spotlight, including last season's victory at then eighth-ranked Georgia in early December. The victory in Athens was the first in program history over a ranked team on the road and just the fifth victory over a ranked foe in the 32-year history of the Middle Tennessee program.

The Blue Raiders won 27 games in a row in 2006-07, the longest streak in the nation at one point, and did not lose for more than 100 days.

Middle Tennessee eclipsed the school record for victories in a season as well last year, posting a 30-4 overall record, besting the previous mark of 26 set by the 1982-83 squad. The 2006-07 squad also tied the record for consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, tying a mark set from 1983-86, and collected the program's fourth consecutive 20-win campaign, also a school record. The four straight conference tournament titles also ties a school record set from 1983-86.

Insell's two-year mark of 50-15 is the best back-to-back seasons in program history, bettering the mark of 48-17 posted during 2003-04 and 2004-05.

Fans have also taken notice of the team's entertaining playing style. Middle Tennessee led the nation in increased attendance percentage in 2005-06, drawing 2,699 fans per game, a 276 percent increase over the previous season. The Blue Raiders improved on that number in 2006-07 as well, setting a single-game record with 10,010 in the season opener against defending national champion Maryland and averaging 4,157 fans for 15 home games, an increase of 65 percent. Middle Tennessee's attendance ranked in the Top 30 nationally and the crowd for the Maryland game was one of the Top 50 for attendance in the nation in 2006-07.

Insell also developed one of the best players in school history over the last two seasons. Chrissy Givens registered the second-most points in school history in 2005-06 and eclipsed the top mark in 2006-07, and ranked in the Top 10 nationally in scoring both seasons.

Insell, a Woodbury, Tenn., native, made a huge splash in his first year at the helm of the Middle Tennessee program, guiding the Blue Raiders to their third consecutive Sun Belt Tournament title and doing so in front of a record-setting home crowd in the finals of the Sun Belt Championships.

Insell directed one of the most thrilling comebacks in Sun Belt Tournament history, leading Middle Tennessee to an 84-73 win over Western Kentucky after being down by as many as 14 points in the first half.

The 2005-06 campaign also saw another first in program history as three players – Givens, Tia Stovall and Krystle Horton – all joined the 1,000-point club. It marked the first time in school history three current players all were represented on the prestigious list, and the Blue Raiders were one of only four teams in the 2006 NCAA Tournament to boast such an honor.

Middle Tennessee notched one of its biggest wins of the season when the Blue Raiders defeated traditional Big 10 power Penn State, 79-65, in the UAB Blaze Tournament in December.

With the first conference title and NCAA Tournament appearance under his belt, Insell's recruiting class was ranked 10th nationally and included current sophomores Jackie Pickel, Brandi Brown and Chelsia Lymon.

A 1977 graduate of Middle Tennessee, Insell built a high school girls basketball dynasty at nearby Shelbyville Central High School, just a 30-minute drive from the Middle Tennessee campus. He guided the Golden Eaglettes to a record 10 TSSAA Class AAA state championships and two USA Today national championships (1989, 1991), as he compiled a sparkling 775-148 worksheet during his 28-year tenure.

Insell was named USA Today National High School Coach of the Year in 1989 and 1991 and he also was named Converse National High School Coach of the Year on two occasions (1990, 1992). A name synonymous with high school girls basketball in Tennessee, Insell's teams hold the Tennessee state records for consecutive wins with 110, consecutive state titles with four (1989-1992), most state championships for a coach with 10 (1986, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1995, 2000, 2001, 2003 and 2004), and his 1990 Golden Eaglette squad was named the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame Team of the Year, the first high school team so honored.

For his accomplishments at Shelbyville, Insell was elected to the National High School Hall of Fame in February 2007 and was inducted with a class of 12 in July 2007. Insell is one of only six Tennesseans, including just the fourth coach, elected to the National High School Hall of Fame.

Under Insell's guidance, Shelbyville Central won 23 district championships, 16 regional championships and appeared in the Class AAA state championship game a remarkable 15 times, winning 10. He developed six Tennessee Class AAA Miss Basketball Award recipients, 15 high school All-Americans and 57 of his players received either athletic or academic scholarships to continue their careers at the collegiate level.

While Insell built a basketball dynasty at Shelbyville during his time there, he also made sure his players got the job done in the classroom, as evidenced by his teams receiving the TSSAA Distinguished Award for Academic Success from 1989-2000, an award based on team grade-point-average. The lowest cumulative GPA at Shelbyville from 1989-00 was 3.4 and the highest was 3.98. The academic emphasis has continued during his tenure at Middle Tennessee, as the Blue Raiders posted a cumulative 3.22 GPA in Fall 2006.

Additionally, Insell's Shelbyville team received a special invitation to the Oval Office by President George H. Bush for academic and athletic achievement and his teams also have been honored in the United States Senate and House of Representatives, the Tennessee State House and Senate and by two Tennessee Governors.

Insell had high praise for the head coaching position when he accepted the position at Middle Tennessee.

"Dreams do come true," Insell said after Director of Athletics Chris Massaro announced his hiring on May 18, 2005. "It's something you think about. I'm a coach and it's all I've ever done, from elementary to junior high to junior pro, AAU and high school. To be able to come on board at Middle Tennessee, a Division I school, that's a dream come true, not only for me, but for all of the high school coaches and junior high coaches across the country and it says if you stay in there long enough and dream big enough, one day it will eventually happen."

Insell said Middle Tennessee will be a pressing basketball team on defense and force the issue, and he added that the Blue Raiders would back down from no one on the recruiting trail.

"We are going after the best players in the state of Tennessee every year," Insell said. "If Tennessee or Vanderbilt is after them, then Middle Tennessee is going to be after them, too. We will recruit alongside of them. We are not going to be intimidated, nor will we back down because they are in the Southeastern Conference. We are Division I and they are Division I. We are going to use all of our contacts."

Insell is married to Debbie and the couple have three sons, Tom, Kyle and Matt.

Lady Raiders weather Western Kentucky rally for win
 By MONTE HALE JR.

MURFREESBORO, Tenn. -- The apparent blowout in the making didn't materialize, but MTSU's Lady Raiders nevertheless took round one in a battle of Sun Belt Conference heavyweights Wednesday night.

Paced by four players in double figures, MTSU built a big lead early, staved off a Western Kentucky rally and eventually subdued the Lady Toppers 76-62 before a crowd of 3,627 at Murphy Center.

"I thought overall it was the worst game we've played," said MTSU coach Rick Insell. "We didn't shoot well. I don't know if it was the Christmas break, but I also think Western Kentucky had a lot to do with it.

"But hey, we've got four players in double figures and we scored 76 points. We're 3-0 in our conference and that's all we can ask right now."

MTSU, ranked 26th nationally in the Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN coaches poll, improved to 10-3 overall and 3-0 in the Sun Belt Conference. Western Kentucky dropped to 6-4 and 2-1.

MTSU looked as if was going to run way from the Lady Toppers as it led 46-29 with 15:07 remaining.

However, Western Kentucky scored nine unanswered points and held the Lady Raiders scoreless for more than four minutes.

MTSU got the lead back to 16 points, 54-38, with 9:28 left, but Western Kentucky refused to wilt and had a chance to get the lead under 10 before the Lady Raiders used a 12-4 flurry to go up 70-54 with 3:12 left.

"It was a hard game and I think we both got tired," said MTSU senior forward Krystle Horton, who had 14 points. "With it being a conference game, you know it's going to be a game of runs. We kept our composure when they made their runs."

Senior Chrissy Givens led the Lady Raiders with 19 points, while junior Amber Holt and sophomore Johnna Abney had 16 and 13, respectively.

"Johnna hit four 3s in the first half and we missed her wide open a couple of times," Insell said. "We've got to do a better job executing our offense and recognizing our shooters."

Western Kentucky's defense disrupted MTSU's offense in the first half. The Lady Raiders had to hit their final four shots just to reach a 43-percent shooting clip.

However, MTSU's defense totally took the Lady Toppers out of their offense as they had 22 turnovers in the first half and managed only 10 shots in the first 13 minutes of play. Western Kentucky finished with 34 turnovers.

MTSU raced out to a 10-0 lead, holding Western Kentucky scoreless until the 15:57 mark of the first half.

The Lady Raiders built a 14-point lead, 26-12, with 5:17 left before intermission before Western Kentucky used a 8-0 spurt to pull within 26-20 at the 2:57 mark.

"We're playing the score instead of the game," Insell said. "I'm glad we got the win, but we've got a lot of work to do."

MTSU then scored seven straight, highlighted by Abney's fourth 3-pointer of the half. Freshman guard Jackie Pickel drained a long 3-pointer with seven second left to give MTSU a 36-22 halftime lead.

Western Kentucky was led by junior post Crystal Kelly with 20 points and 16 rebounds.

MTSU is off until Tuesday when it plays its final non-conference game of the season against North Dakota State at home.

Lady Raiders get 20th straight victory

By MONTE HALE JR.

hale@dnj.com

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. — MTSU had the look and the heart of a champion Sunday at Western Kentucky.

Despite being plagued with foul troubles, the loss of point guard Chelsea Lymon to a knee injury and a seven-point deficit in the first half, the Lady Raiders summoned the wherewithal to storm back and handily defeat Western Kentucky, 78-63, before a crowd of 4,492 at E.A. Diddle Arena.

"I'm real proud of our young ladies," said MTSU coach Rick Insell. "We did have foul problems. We are aggressive and they were fouls.

"But our kids have a lot basketball savvy, and they played through it."

No. 18-ranked MTSU improved to 23-3 overall and 15-0 in the Sun Belt, and it notched its 20th consecutive victory.

It also was the Lady Raiders first win at Western Kentucky in the regular season since 2001. The Lady Toppers dropped to 17-6 and 11-3.

In the first half, senior forward Krystle Horton was whistled for her third foul with 14:07 remaining, while sophomore point guard Johnna Abney picked up her third foul with 10:51 left.

Meanwhile, Lymon suffered a knee injury midway through the half and missed the rest of the game.

However, despite trailing by as many as seven points, MTSU rallied to take a 34-33 halftime lead.

"We felt real good at the half," said MTSU senior guard Chrissy Givens. "We had players like Lakira Boyd and Latoya Barclay who played great. Coach always says be ready when it's your time. Without Lakira and Barclay, we wouldn't have had this game."

Without Givens and junior forward Amber Holt, MTSU would have been in trouble.

Holt poured in a game-high 24 points and had seven rebounds, while Givens had 22 points, 12 rebounds and seven assists.

"It's big," said Holt. "Us coming here and beating Western Kentucky is big. I didn't play well against them the first time and I was focused to play today."

Western Kentucky did a good job controlling MTSU's 3-point shooting (5-of-12), but Givens, Holt and Horton dominated in the paint. Horton scored all 13 of her points in the decisive second half.

"Teams are taking the 3-pointer away from us, but when they do that we've got Amber, Chrissy and Krystle to go to inside," Insell said.

Western Kentucky's Kenzie Rich opened the second half with a 3-pointer to give Lady Toppers a 36-34 lead, but MTSU went on a 16-2 run to take a 50-38 lead with 15:38 left.

"We've got to put together a 40-minute basketball game," said Western Kentucky coach Mary Taylor Cowles. "... They have runs like that and those are the types of things you have to eliminate."

Western Kentucky got as close as seven points, but the Lady Raiders used a 13-0 spurt to go ahead 67-47 with 5:23 remaining.

"It's disappointing," said Western Kentucky junior forward Crystal Kelly. "It was a great crowd and a great atmosphere. We had a letdown and they had a good run.

"... They had two players, Amber Holt and Chrissy Givens, step up and carry their team."

MTSU shot 59 percent in the second half, while Western Kentucky shot only 36 percent.

"You've got to give them credit," Givens said. "Western Kentucky was well prepared today. We knew it would be a tough game and it was. I expect to see them in the championship of the Sun Belt."

Western Kentucky was led by senior guard Tiffany Zaragoza with 22 points, while Kelly had 14.

MTSU plays host to Florida International Thursday. Tipoff is set for 5:30 p.m. at Murphy Center.

It didn't take long for MTSU to set the tempo for its home opener against Tennessee Tech Wednesday night at Murphy Center.

It didn't take long, either, for the Lady Raiders to race out to a 89-62 rout before a crowd of 2,614.

MTSU hit seven of its first 10 shots, which proved to be a sign of things to come as the Lady Raiders drained 12 3-pointers and shot 51 percent from the field.

"Anytime you shoot the ball like we shot it, and we got some good looks and kept knocking them down, you're going to have a chance to have a good night," said MTSU coach Rick Insell.

MTSU forced 33 Golden Eagle turnovers, including 20 in the first half.

Tennessee Tech continuously struggled to get the ball in the half-court against the Lady Raiders' pressure defense.

"We take a lot of pride in our press and we were able to contain the ball," said MTSU sophomore guard Chelsia Lymon.

Seven different Lady Raiders hit 3-pointers and five players hit for double figures, led by senior forward Amber Holt's 19.

"Hopefully we won't ever start off shooting like we did against Old Dominion," Pickel said of the Lady Raiders' shooting woes in a 76-68 season-opening loss Saturday.

MTSU led 58-24 at halftime and went ahead by as many as 44 points in the second half, when it outscored Tennessee Tech 16-6 in the first five minutes.

"We changed our press in the second half," Insell said, "but we needed to work on some things that we'll have to do later.

Queen netted nine.

Tennessee Tech (1-1) was led by Cara Reed's 13 points, while freshman and former Smyrna standout Jasmine White netted 11.

Basketball seasons afford teams to learn a lot of valuable lessons. MTSU's Lady Raiders learned one Wednesday night when they lost 57-54 at Chattanooga The McKenzie Center.

"We came out sluggish in the second half and it was like we didn't care," said senior forward Amber Holt. "I think we learned if you come out like that you're going to get your butt kicked big time."

The sluggishness in reference came early in the second half when MTSU missed five straight 3-point attempts and made just two of its first 12 field goal attempts.

The Lady Raiders (3-2) led 29-28 at halftime, but fell behind 32-31 early in the second half and never regained the lead.

"We didn't execute," said senior guard Starr Orr. "We had people pass up shots, we didn't rebound and we didn't execute."

MTSU trailed 45-41 with eight minutes left before Holt scored back-to-back baskets to tie the game with 6:04 left.

Chattanooga's Jenaya Wade-Fray hit a 3-pointer out of the corner with 2:11 remaining and MTSU never got closer than two points.

"They've got a very good basketball team and I knew they felt they had something to prove after a bad second half against Louisville the other night," said MTSU coach Rick Insell. "They played hard, we played hard and they had some kids make some plays down the stretch."

Added Chattanooga coach Wes Moore: "It was a good win. ... I told them that this was a game we could take if we took care of the little things."

MTSU made just 6-of-29 3-pointers, while Chattanooga hit 5-of-14. The Lady Raiders shot just two free throws — both coming after Moore was hit with a technical foul in the first half. The Lady Mocs cashed in on 16-of-20 attempts at the free throw line.

"I don't know if I've ever played a game — from junior pro, to middle school, to coaching high school, to coaching here — that we shot two free throws," Insell said. "... Wes gave us those and we appreciate it."

"That's not the difference in the game, but I've never seen that. They had a good game plan and they made the tough plays."

MTSU was outrebounded 38-31 — another statistic Holt pointed to as a difference in the outcome.

"We just need our five to step up and rebound," she said. "Basically, we need to rebound better. Hopefully the next game we'll come ready."

Added Orr: "We've got to box out better and we've got to help Amber rebound."

Holt led the Lady Raiders with 19 points and seven boards, while Orr scored 11. Freshman Anne Marie Lanning netted 10 points, all in the first half.

The growing pains continued for MTSU's women's basketball team Sunday. Plagued by another poor shooting performance, a terrible rebounding performance and foul problems, the Lady Raiders fell, 77-71, to Western Carolina before a crowd of 3,806 at Murphy Center.

"I thought we had a chance in the second half to take the game by the neck," said MTSU coach Rick Insell. "... But they did a good job of getting the ball to the people they wanted to. In Division I basketball you've got to make plays, and we didn't make enough plays."

MTSU shot just 40 percent from the field and made only 2-of-18 from 3-point range. The Lady Raiders also were outrebounded, 53-27, and made just 15-of-24 at the free-throw line.

The game was tied 13 times and there were 12 lead changes, with the final one coming when Kristen Feemster gave the Lady Catamounts a 59-58 lead with 9:13 remaining.

MTSU trailed just 72-69 with 3:06 remaining after Amber Holt scored in the paint, but the Lady Raiders could get no closer.

"Our rebounding, we've got to box out better," said Holt, who had a game-high 28 points. "We didn't score off their turnovers and we didn't make our free throws. If we had rebounded, scored off their turnovers and made our free throws we would have won the game."

One positive was the play of freshman forward Angelique Burts, who came off the bench to score 12 points and grab five rebounds in 11 minutes of play.

"Angelique gave us good minutes," Insell said. "She's got to build on it now. She deserved it. She's been yelled at a lot."

Burts was inserted into the game due to the fact the Lady Raiders were in so much foul trouble in the second half.

"I didn't go into to score," Burts said. "I went in to rebound and play defense. When I rebounded, I guess the scoring came. I've got to come back to practice hard and build on this. Sometimes I'm not into it, and I've got to work harder."

MTSU got several open looks from 3-point range, but the Lady Raiders were 2-for-11 in the first half and 0-for-7 in the second.

"We come to practice, but we don't bring it on the floor," Holt said. "I really don't know why."

Western Carolina opened the game with an impressive 15-6 run before MTSU took a 19-16 lead with a 13-1 spurt at the 9:07 mark of the first half.

MTSU led 29-25, its biggest cushion in the first half before Western Carolina came back to tie the game at 37 at intermission.

Holt and Burts were the only two Lady Raiders in double figures. Western Carolina was led Lauren Powell with 17 points, while Monique Dawson had 14, including going 12-of-12 at the free-throw line. Six-foot-4 post Brooke Johnson had 12 points and a game-high 20 rebounds.

With six minutes remaining in the game, MTSU coach Rick Insell patted the heads of freshmen forwards Emily Queen and Angeliqe Burts and sophomore forward Brandi Brown. Each, at times, was charged with trying to guard Tennessee All-American Candace Parker, who scored 34 points in leading the No. 1 Lady Vols to a 84-61 victory at Thompson-Boling Arena. Parker, a 6-foot-4 junior, also had 13 rebounds and made 17-of-21 at the free throw line. MTSU senior forward Amber Holt nearly matched Parker's performance, scoring a team-high 28 points and making 10-of-11 at the free throw line. She also had five assists, four rebounds and two steals. "I had trust in my teammates," Holt said. "When I can get out and shoot the 3, they have to guard me. When they come out and guard me, I can drive to the basket. I guess the best thing is to keep the ball away from me."

Despite the 23-point final margin of victory, Tennessee found itself in a much closer game than most expected. MTSU (3-5) trailed just 61-55 left with seven minutes remaining in the game before the Lady Vols (8-0) scored 18 unanswered points. Eight came at the free throw line. Meanwhile, MTSU was playing with such a small lineup that even freshman guard Anne Marie Lanning (5-foot-10) was guarding Parker at times.

MTSU cut a nine-point halftime deficit to four, 41-37, with 17:51 left, but Tennessee used a 8-0 spurt to take a 49-37 advantage with 15:45 remaining. The Lady Vols built as big as a 15-point lead before the Lady Raiders stormed back to make it 58-53 with 7:53 remaining on back-to-back 3-pointers from Holt and Johnna Abney. MTSU was outrebounded 47-26, and the Lady Vols were deadly at the free throw line, making 28-of-37. MTSU senior guard Starr Orr jump-started MTSU early, hitting three straight 3-pointers to give the Lady Raiders a 14-6 advantage with 16:20 left in the first half.

However, after the first media timeout with 15:59 left, MTSU didn't score until almost six minutes later. Tennessee was unable to run away, though, as it never led by more than nine points in the first half. MTSU had a chance to cut the lead to 34-30, but it missed two easy shots down low. The Lady Vols took a 39-30 into the locker-room at intermission. MTSU was plagued by foul problems in the first half. Brown had four personals, while Queen and Burts had three apiece. Orr finished with a season-high 12 points, while Abney added 11. Alexis Hornbuckle added 17 for Tennessee, while former Shelbyville standout Alex Fuller had 16.

Two days removed from scoring 28 points against No. 1 Tennessee, Amber Holt picked up where she left off against Austin Peay Saturday night. The MTSU senior forward poured in a career-high 33 points and pulled down 14 rebounds as the Lady Raiders routed Austin Peay, 95-60, at the Dunn Center. Holt made 12-of-16 shots and hit 8-of-11 at the free throw line. She also had five assists and three steals. "What can you say — that's Amber Holt," said MTSU coach Rick Insell. "She had 33 points, 14 rebounds and only had two turnovers in 34 minutes." The victory snapped a four-game losing streak — the longest MTSU skid since the 1998-99 season. MTSU improved to 4-5, while Austin Peay slipped to 4-5. "We needed this win," Holt said. "I feel like we could have won every game we've lost, so it felt good tonight." MTSU led 36-23 at halftime, but had the lead up to 20 points in less than two minutes. Holt scored eight of the Lady Raiders first 11 points after intermission. MTSU's defense was relentless, forcing 39 Austin Peay turnovers that equated into 43 Raider points. "We had to have a little talk at halftime," Insell said. "We spent a lot of energy the other night at Tennessee, but we came out in the second half more focused and more aggressive." "Austin Peay is not a bad basketball team and it was a good win for our kids. Now, the real stuff starts (Wednesday) with conference play." Four Lady Raiders scored in double figures. Freshman forward Emily Queen had a career-high 14 points, while sophomore guard Chelsea Lymon had 14 and freshman guard Anne Marie Lanning 11. "I'm not necessarily looking to score," said Queen, who hit 5-of-7 attempts. "I'm in there for rebounding and defense, and when you do those things, the scoring comes to you." "We're running our offense much better right now and we've got a lot of people who can score." MTSU scored the first eight points of the game and built a 20-7 lead with 12:52 left. Austin Peay got as close as seven points, 20-13, with 11:38 before MTSU closed the half with a 16-10 run to take a 36-23 halftime advantage. Holt scored 15 points and had eight rebounds in the first half, which coupled with 20 Austin Peay turnovers, allowed the Lady Raiders to build the 13-point cushion. The Lady Govs were led by senior guard Ashley Herring's 19 points.

As was the case a number of times previously, Amber Holt stole the show Wednesday. This time, however, the MTSU senior's performance featured an unusual number of steals. It took less than one half for the reigning Sun Belt Conference player of the week to match her career-high for takeaways in a game (five). She did not get any over the second half but the 6-foot forward played every minute and finished with a game

Amber Holt scored a game-high 27 points and grabbed eight rebounds and Anne Marie Lanning added a career-high 15 points, as Middle Tennessee won their 26th straight contest against Sun Belt competition with an 80-46 victory over South Alabama Saturday at the Mitchell Center.

Holt scored 11 of the team's first 13 points of the second half and the Raiders extended a 20-point halftime advantage to as many as 35 at one point. Middle Tennessee's defense forced 26 USA turnovers and turned those into 26 points.

Lanning had her best game of the year, going 5-for-7 from the floor and hitting three 3-pointers. She scored the 15 points in just 11 minutes of action.

Brandi Brown also netted 12 points for Middle Tennessee (6-5, 2-0 Sun Belt), who won its third straight overall and 20th consecutive regular season Sun Belt contest.

The Blue Raiders started very slowly in the contest but put together a 14-2 run over eight-plus minutes to take an 18-10 advantage in the first half. Brown hit a pair of 3-pointers during the run and USA scored just one field goal in a 13-minute stretch, committing nine turnovers.

The Lady Jaguars closed the gap to 29-19 at the four-minute media timeout, but Middle Tennessee finished the half with a 10-0 run, highlighted by 3-pointers from Lanning and Chelsia Lymon for a 39-19 lead at the break.

Holt scored 12 points in the half and Lanning added 10. The Blue Raiders also netted 15 points off 15 USA turnovers in the opening 20 minutes.

Middle Tennessee dominated all phases of the game, out-rebounding the Lady Jaguars (10-2, 1-1), 35-30, and committing just 12 turnovers compared to USA's 26. The Blue Raiders shot 51 percent from the floor and hit 9-of-19 from 3-point range.

"South Alabama started the game really running right by us on the press so we want to more of a contain and made them really work to get the ball up the court and use time off the clock and it worked very well," head coach Rick Insell said. "They're a good half-court team but when we made them take time off the clock they weren't able to get into their sets."

"I really thought all of our girls played well and we really executed the offense and got the ball to people in a position to score. One of the reasons they played so well is because they get an extra day off for the Christmas break."

MTSU senior forward Amber Holt was disappointed to find out LSU All-American center Sylvia Fowles was out with a knee injury Friday night.

"I really wanted to her play," said Holt. "I was kind of disappointed."

LSU was distraught, too, after Holt poured in a career-high 41 points to lead the Lady Raiders to a stunning 67-56 victory over the nation's eighth-ranked team before a crowd of 7,858 at Murphy Center.

Fowles, a 6-foot-6 center, was obviously missed, but the second largest crowd to ever witness a women's basketball game at Murphy Center saw Holt make her own bid for postseason honors.

MTSU (7-5) saw a 10-point second-half lead evaporate into a one-point deficit, 54-53, with 4:34 remaining, but the Lady Raiders outscored LSU 14-2 down the stretch.

After falling behind 54-53, Holt snatched an offensive rebound and kicked it out to Brandi Brown, who hit a 3-pointer out of the corner to give the Lady Raiders the lead for good.

Holt, who also had nine rebounds, made 15-of-26 shots and hit 11-of-12 at the free-throw line.

"I just came out focused," Holt said. "I have to do that, because whatever I do, my teammates gravitate to that. I just made baskets tonight."

Added LSU coach Van Chancellor: "Holt's a difficult matchup for us. We made up our mind that we were going to give Holt some points and try to take away the three ball. We just didn't realize that we were going to give Holt so many points."

Holt said previous road games at Tennessee, Maryland and Old Dominion prepared the Lady Raiders for the Lady Tigers.

"I prepared us real well and made our freshmen and younger players not be scared," she said. "(Freshman) Emily Queen had 12 rebounds tonight and she needs to do more of that."

MTSU struggled early, turning the ball over five times in the first five minutes, but LSU shot the ball poorly and never could get into a rhythm offensively.

Chancellor was hit with a technical foul with 42 seconds left after Quianna Chaney was called for a charging foul, which was her fifth.

MTSU cashed in on 22-of-29 free-throw attempts, while LSU made 6-of-9.

Although Holt was a one-person wrecking crew, MTSU got more contributions from her supporting cast in the second half. Brown had eight points, while senior guard Starr Orr and junior Johnna Abney scored five.

LSU (9-3) got 13 points from Allison Hightower and 11 from Chaney.
