MURFREESBORO, Tenn. - Records continued to fall Saturday as the Sun Belt Outdoor Track & Field Championships completed its second day at the Dean A. Hayes Track and Soccer Stadium in Murfreesboro, Tenn.

The mid-afternoon was highlighted by a facility record-breaking leap by Western Kentucky's Mandhla Mgijima in the long jump. He saved his best jump for last, earning a 25-11 (7.90m) mark to move into third on the NCAA list and 15th on the world wind-assisted chart for 2009. His distance was more than eight inches more than second-place Luther Ambrose of Louisiana-Monroe and third-place Carl Morgan of Middle Tennessee.

In the women's long jump, the Blue Raiders' Sarah Nambawa captured the crown with another stadium standard of 20-10 (6.35m) in just her third time competing in the event outdoors this season. India George of FIU claimed second, while Western Kentucky's Sharika Smith placed third.

Host Middle Tennessee picked up its second event win earlier in the afternoon as junior Brittany Cox captured the shot put with a heave of 50-0.75 (15.26m) to set yet another facility record, the third Blue Raider to do so in two days. She attained the distance on her third of six tosses and held off second-place Felicia Yearwood of Western Kentucky to place for the second time over the weekend following her third-place result in Friday's discus.

The women's high jump went to Louisiana-Monroe's Heather Davis with a height of 5-8.75 (1.75m), while WKU earned the top-two spots in the men's shot put with Matt Taitt edging teammate Brian Soverns with a 55-2.25 (16.82m) toss.

The morning began with the final events of the men's decathlon and women's heptathlon. In the decathlon, Louisiana-Monroe's Isaac Combs won with 6,944 points with the North Texas pairing of Andrew Turner (6,711 points) and Jordan Wehr (6,710) coming in second and third, respectively. Arkansas State's Amy Bowman garnered the heptathlon victory with 4,958 points. Florida International's Laurenne Louissaint (4,843 points) and Jantelle McNeil of Western Kentucky (4,679) were next on the leaderboard.

The night session featured seven different running events holding preliminaries for Sunday's finals.
