"This was a really good win for us. Denver played exceptionally well and with a lot of physicality and toughness. They have such long possessions offensively. We were impatient in the first half, a credit Denver's defense, but a lot more aggressive in the second half," head coach Kermit Davis said. "Montarrío Haddock played well and James Washington defended a lot better. I know to the average person it was 57 to 50, but we're awful proud to get out of there with a win."
