BOCA RATON, Fla. - Middle Tennessee's baseball game at Florida Atlantic scheduled for Saturday evening has been postponed due to lightning in the area.

The two teams will play a doubleheader beginning at 9 a.m. ET Sunday at FAU Baseball Stadium. The two teams were originally scheduled to begin the series finale at 11 a.m. ET Sunday.

The second game of the doubleheader will have a 4 p.m. ET curfew due to the Blue Raiders' travel schedule, meaning a new inning cannot begin after 4 p.m. ET. The two teams must complete five innings for the game to count.

MT took game one on Friday, 3-2, which included a 15-minute lightning delay.
